Student and Parent
Handbook

Welcome to the Amici String Program. We hope you will find this to be a place where everyone can grow in a positive and nurturing environment, where high standards of playing are expected and all students have access to fine teaching.

Amici students are invited to participate in weekly masterclasses and technique classes, weekly chamber music coaching, workshops with guest clinicians, monthly solo recitals and the summer programs.

Junior Amici offers masterclass/technique, musicianship/ear training, chamber music and 4 recitals to string students playing RCM level 3-5.

Amicini offers violin and cello classes ranging from absolute beginner to those playing at approximately an RCM level 3-4. Classes include skill development, establishing a technical foundation for cello or violin and note reading; all presented in an atmosphere of fun. There will be 2 recitals

This Handbook is intended to provide the basic administrative information you will need for the year. A copy of it is posted on the Amici website at amicistringprogram.com, and you can always look there for up-to-date information about the program. Please be aware that the policies described in this Handbook continue to evolve and are subject to change without notice.

Please advise of absences in advance by emailing to amici.stringprogram@gmail.com or calling Winona Haliburton (403-615-1145) or Fiona Carnie for Amici (403-805-7360) or Diane Lane (for Junior Amici and Amicini (403-852-4135)

Expectations Of All Students

In order to make the program a positive, productive and fun experience for all participants, students should be aware of the following expectations.

- Students must be respectful of other students and faculty and bring a positive attitude of expecting to learn and to enjoy music.
- Students and parents should have an email address which they check regularly. If you are not receiving Amici emails, it is your responsibility to inform us at amici.stringprogram@gmail.com.
- Students should be on time, tuned, and ready to play each week at the designated hour of rehearsal or class.
- Absences must be reported to amici.stringprogram.com. Last minute illnesses or emergency absences should be reported by phone to Winona at 403-615-1145 or Fiona (Amici) 403-805-7360 or Diane (Amicini & Junior Amici) 403-852-4135.
- It is important to make every effort to attend class, recognizing the impact of absences on others. Early notice of absences is important. For Amici students it may be possible to participate via Zoom. Amici Students who miss chamber music without notice and due cause may forfeit their chamber music placement.
- The programs are intended to enrich the musical education of string students currently studying privately. All students are required to be studying on a regular basis with a private teacher.
- Students must not bring snacks or any sort of food into the sanctuary.
- Students are responsible to prepare and learn their individual chamber music parts at home and should feel free to ask their Amici program coach or private teacher if they have any questions or need additional guidance.
- Students are expected to participate in the set-up of rooms in which they are practicing and performing, and in the clean-up at the end of sessions, under the direction of the instructor of the class. This will involve helping to move music stands and chairs. Students must be respectful of the facility, taking care not to damage or dirty any part of the building.
- Chamber and group music parts are the responsibility of each student. In the event of lost music, contact Winona at amici.stringprogram@gmail.com. Or Tokie Brideaux at tokie@calgaryclassical.ca. A replacement fee may be levied.

Collaborative Artist Funding

One of the goals of the Amici String Program is to support students in their study of solo repertoire, by providing weekly masterclasses and access to guest clinicians.

Amici and Junior Amici students registered in weekly masterclasses may take advantage of a subsidy for rehearsal with an approved accompanist.

Amici students: four hours (240 minutes)

Junior Amici students: one hour (60 minutes)

A minimum of two rehearsals before any performance is strongly recommended.

Amici students may work with any collaborative artist listed in the handbook. Leila Linton is the designated collaborative artist for Junior Amici.

If you wish to work with an accompanist other than those listed on the forms please contact us at amici.stringprogram.com.

Amici will pay approved accompanists for their performances at Amici Solo Recitals or at regular Monday classes.

NB: Family members may not be approved as accompanists paid by Amici. Please email with questions.

Technique and Masterclasses (Amici Only)

Students enrolled in the technique/masterclass portion of the Amici program should be ready to play a polished piece or part of a piece in masterclasses on a weekly basis. Listening critically is an important part of the masterclass experience. Students should have a notebook and pencil at all classes to take notes. Masterclasses will alternate with technique classes at the discretion of the instructors. Students should be prepared to play three octave scales using the Galamian pattern, in various bowings, for the technique classes.

When guest clinicians are invited to Amici, students will be selected to perform based on readiness and equality of opportunity at the discretion of the director. Some clinicians will be available only to the older students. Students selected to perform for guests will be notified a week in advance.

Please see the schedule in this handbook and check the Amici website at www.amicistringprogram.com for updates on guest artists throughout the year.

Students must dress appropriately when playing for guest clinicians (no jeans or running shoes). In most cases this will involve bringing a change of clothes from school. If in doubt about appropriate attire, ask one of the Amici teachers. Students who are not appropriately dressed will not be permitted to play.

Students who are not selected to perform in the masterclass with guest clinicians are expected to listen to the class and take notes.

Parents and the general public are encouraged to attend masterclasses and classes with guest clinicians.

Recitals

Amici

Playing in public is an important part of becoming a musician, and Amici's public recitals are an important part of our musical outreach to the community.

Amici recitals are held Sundays between 1pm and 5 pm at Bethany Chapel of Calgary. Recital participation is done on a sign-up basis, and is encouraged but not mandatory for Amici students. Exact recital time assignments will be sent out via email and scheduling will be arranged according to the needs of the collaborative artists.

Any Amici student with a "performance-ready" piece may sign up to play in the recitals, which are held approximately monthly as listed in the calendar. Registration fees are $20 per student for each recital in which the student wishes to participate. Cash or a cheque made out to the Amici String Program Association should be paid to the assistant by the last Monday before the recital. To ensure that each piece is ready for performance, students may not sign up for recitals more than a month in advance. A fee of $20 will be charged for NSF cheques.

We encourage Amici students to work with one of our approved accompanists listed on the recital form. Should the student wish to play with an accompanist other than one designated as an Amici accompanist, the student must pay the accompanist for the performance as well as any rehearsals incurred.

All pieces to be performed in recitals must be fluently memorized and polished (except sonatas, which can be played from music). Students must dress appropriately for each recital. Students in jeans or running shoes will not be allowed to participate in the recital.

Students outside the Amici program who are at a Grade 6 standard and above may also participate if there is room, subject to the discretion of the Artistic Director. These students will pay a registration fee of $30 for each recital.
